Call for Papers Instructions for Abstract Submission

At CompositesWorld's Carbon Fiber 2011, carbon fiber manufacturers, composite industry executives and technologists will come together to explore expanding the role of carbon fiber in the composites industry. Attendees will receive a complete briefing on the outlook for growth, supply, and demand of carbon fibers, including market trends by region and sector, new technologies, emerging applications, and challenges that lie ahead for the carbon fiber composite market. This meeting provides an objective, comprehensive forum to discuss new developments for carbon fibers in emerging industrial markets, such as wind energy, marine, and construction, as well as in traditional markets, such as aerospace and sporting goods.
