 COMPOSITES ONE[®] The Power of One

Just one call to Composites One connects you with the raw materials, process knowledge, and supply chain solutions for all your advanced composites needs.

As North America's leading provider of solutions for advanced composites manufactures, Composites One stands ready to assist you, whatever your needs. We utilize the broadest portfolio of advanced raw materials to build comprehensive solutions, bringing you multiple options to meet your needs. From advanced fibers, to high-performance thermoset and thermoplastic systems, prepregs, specialty core materials, and ancillary products, we have the broadest product offering in the industry. Composites One supports our offering with broad technical expertise and local service and storage for reduced lead times. We are uniquely capable of handling your complex requirements.

Our network of over 30 distribution centers throughout the U.S. and Western Canada, along with local delivery on our own fleet of trucks, ensures that your products are there when you need them. All of this is supported by our dedicated advanced composites specialists and our 60+ local technical sales representatives. On top of all that, we offer 24/7 access on b2bcomposites.com, regulatory assistance, process expertise, and project lead referrals from our extensive industry network.

We offer you the power of doing business with the one company that can serve all your advanced composites needs. We will provide the total material solution ... the best processing methods to achieve the best performance ... and an unequalled level of service. That's the power of one. Composites One.
